Divine

Antony and the Johnsons

Good-Bye, baby
Baby, good-bye
Divine, oh Divine
Falling like a picture of time

Oh he was the Mother of America He was my self-determined guru Myself, I hold your big fat heart in my hands

And I hold your burning heart in my hands A supernova A flame on fire Shining in the darkness

Did someone mention a rapture
Well I turn to think of you
Who walked the way with so much pain
Who holds the mirror up to fools

And I'll murder the ingrates Who stand in our way! And I'll swallow shit, laughing On my bed of hay!

And I hold your burning heart in my hands And I hold your burning heart in my hands A supernova A flame on fire Shining in the darkness

Divine Divine

A supernova A flame on fire Shining in the darkness
