

All Along

Anya Marina

It's half past three
Empty bottles and MTV
Stupid magazines
But I can't keep my mind off of you

I had a feeling if you came around
I had a feeling love would let me down
You didn't mean it, you ran away
Giving you my heart was a mistake
And I knew it

If you love someone you should tell 'em
Tell 'em why you do
If you need someone, go and need 'em
Like I've been needing you
But here I am, and you're gone
Now I'm seeing what I knew all along

I spend my day
Avoiding pictures of you
But I see your face
In every single thing that I do

I had a feeling if you came around
I had a feeling love would let me down
I didn't listen, did it anyway
I didn't listen

If you love someone you should tell 'em
Tell 'em why you do
If you need someone, go and need 'em
Like I've been needing you
But here I am, and you're gone
Now I'm seeing what I knew all along

You'd mess up and tell me
It was fine, fine all along
I'd wake up and know it wasn't right
Now here I am and you're gone
And I'm seeing what I knew all along

All along
(Fine, fine all along)
I had a feeling, I had a feeling

If you love someone you should tell 'em
Tell 'em why you do
If you need someone, go and need 'em
Like I've been needing you
