

Ordinary Dude

Anya Marina

There's a man pacing outside in the thick of a fight,
Thinking tonight is the night - alright.
He throws caution to the sky.
This is his life. What's it gonna be: fight or fly?

Oh the road is tried and true
Running from the rules
Now you're asking me if I approve.

You know I do I love you too
You know I do
You're not some formula that I set out to prove
You're on my side, you're not uptight,
I can't lose
You're not some ordinary ordinary ordinary dude

Oh, let me try oh, to survive it, survive it
Oh the road's a lonely land
Living all I can
Now you're asking me to understand

You know I do I love you too
You know I do
You're not some formula that I set out to prove
You're on my side, you're not uptight,
I can't lose
You're not some ordinary ordinary ordinary dude

Are you gonna make me proud? are you gonna stick around?
'cause I've given everything to make me normal

And who do you think you are, knowing I've come this far?
I'm not giving up until I live it up. oh the road divides ahead

Stick together or we're dead
Now you're asking if I have regrets.

You know I do I love you too
You know I do
You're not some formula that I set out to prove
You're on my side, you're not uptight,
I can't lose
You're not some ordinary ordinary ordinary dude
