

Are You Listening?

Aranda

I don't know where the edges got frayed
When the little things started drivin' me crazy
Do you understand me?
You're the one looking over my shoulder
I'm counting down till the tears are over
It's not the way we planned it

I'm reeling it in
Cause you can't seem to see that the truth set you free, babe
I don't understand
Why I'm alone even when you were with me

And all I wanna say is
Love gets in the way
And somehow this became
Nothin' more than pretending
And all I wanna do is
Leave you with the truth
It's you I'm talking to
But are you listening?

I wanna leave but I need to stay
You're the one pushing me away
And time ain't on our side, no
And I don't want any more of this drama
Can't define where we'll be tomorrow
It has to change today

It's slipping away
'Cause you're too about you and the damage you do, babe
We're better as friends
I hope we can save what we got left

And all I wanna say is
Love gets in the way
And somehow this became
Nothin' more than pretending
And all I wanna do is
Leave you with the truth
It's you I'm talking to
But are you listening?

And I know that
I've been playing with fire trying not to burn out
And I know you're
Pulling me down
Let go, girl
I'll try just to be there, oh when you need me
Can you hear me now?
Now
All I wanna say is (all I wanna say is)
All I wanna say
Is

And all I wanna say is
Love gets in the way
And somehow this became

Nothin' more than pretending
And all I wanna do is
Leave you with the truth
It's you I'm talking to
But are you listening? (But are you?)
But are you listening?
Are you listening?