

The generations came and left
Kings were cursed and kings were blessed
Looking for power and shine
Rotting rulers of yore
Turned into the dust
Now they lie in your depths
They lie forever
They lie forever
Forever

Oh forceful river uncover your past
I listen to your waves
With passion and lust
Following your voice
With infinite trust
Waves surround you

Oh deep river, show me your thoughts
Reveal your covert secrets, power of gods
Be source of knowledge, knowledge of mine
Take me to the wasteland of previous time

River takes everything
In her path,
Nile is goddess

Oh deep river, show me your thoughts
Reveal your covert secrets, power of gods
Be source of knowledge, knowledge of mine
Take me to the wasteland of previous time

Generations passed away
Kings are dead and not so blessed
Death and life will be dealt
Always in the harmony
The only one will remain
The only one will remain
Which from distant stars came Distant stars came

All what you've seen
What you've devoured
Was it all real or just out of this world this world, this world
