

Ungrateful

Arch of Hell

With all of the hope
I did my best to lead this world
Till the end of time
But I was mistaken because of you
And your impure faith

Humans don't appreciate anything
We gave them life and prosperity
Which we can reverse with death and havoc
And lead it into the total chaos
They're selfish they don't care about each other
We pity them about their smallness

Tell me
Why human beings are always ungrateful
It's hidden profoundly inside of you constantly full of rage and truly hateful
And ungrateful to the supreme

I'm gonna rise up in another place
But I will get back to you once
And in the twilight of the existence
I'll be the last chance

We can send great floods or droughts
We can send fiery rains
All kinds of disasters can happen to you
Severity of gods is vital for humans to be grateful

Tell me
Why human beings are always ungrateful
It's hidden profoundly inside of you
constantly full of rage and truly hateful
And ungrateful to the supreme
