

Perfect World

Arco

Sorry I didn't like your point of view
Didn't mean to upset you or hurt you
Find it hard to tell those sweet little lies
Always finding fault when I could compromise

I just want a perfect world

Sorry I don't see life the way you do
If I could I'd be just the same as you
Every day parade the things I feel inside
Not be frightened by the doubt that I can't hide

I just want a perfect world
Something beautiful preserved
And to take what we've been given's
A trick I've never learned

So the world falls off around you
You're standing on the edge
Know you'll fall it just hasn't happened yet
And there's no-one left to catch you
And even if there were
You're not sure you could repay such a debt

But I just can't seem to shake
The old pursuits of youth
Simple need to be
The seeker after truth

I just want a perfect world
Dumbest thing you ever heard
But to take what we've been given's
A trick I've never learned
