Witness

Arcwelder

(music: r. graber/s.macdonald lyrics: s.macdonald) Can I get a witness To your constant pain Hear you're spinning downwards Thought you were the same Take some pride in who you are Stop the tide of self defeat Can I get a witness Not someone to blame Throwing rocks at glass houses shatters everything Is there anyone I know who hasn't done the same? But it's all their fault and you didn't do nothin' did you now? And it's all their fault and you didn't do nothin' did you now? Can I get a witness Where's your sense of pride I know you used to have one It's been pushed aside Think about responsibility You don't have to be the victim Can I get a witness Not just one more ride And you want to play all aces, all you have's a duce You're the last one at the table anyway And we all make mistakes but we all learn from them and move on And we all make mistakes but we all learn from them and move on Can I get a witness Is there one at all What's the best for yourselves Is what you both recall Drop it now and move along Everyone has forgotten it Can I get a witness To your free fall Cause I worry that this story's just the iceberg's tip It gets so hard to know just what I believe But it's all about trust and you know I trust you I do now And it's all about trust and you know I trust you I do now Can I get a witness? Can I get a witness?
