

All Because

Ari Hest

If I woke, in a dream not knowing
If I was, if I was still dreaming
Would I still feel the way I feel right now?
Slip away, I don't really know how

With every heartbeat I can't look back
With every step there's a new direction
Leading me somewhere I never been
All because I loved you

Maybe we were two rivers flowing
Take a breath and look at where you're going
Do you see the end of me and the start of you?
I guess that was the best we could do

With every heartbeat I can't look back
With every step there's a new direction
Leading me somewhere I never been
All because I loved you

And the stars will all fall down
And the moon will slide to the back of my heart
And the world will spin around
Making room for the light

With every heartbeat I can't look back
With every step there's a new direction
Leading me somewhere I never been
All because I loved you