

Myself

Ari Hest

Hush little baby haven't you heard
I'm gonna speak now don't say a word
There's so many things that you haven't learned
Stones underneath I still haven't turned

I don't think I can
I am not your man
Because the only one I know is myself

I was taught to keep on guard
The less you trust the stronger you are
And I believed those words that were said
They held my heart and they haunted my head

And they made me who I am
Can't you understand
That the only one I love is myself

I don't think I can
I am not your man
Because the only one I love is myself
I don't think I can
I am not your man
Because the only one I love is myself
Because the only one I love is myself