

Tyrants' time

Arthemis

Look to
Look to the past now and tell me what you see
Time passes
But nothing's changing, still there is poor and rich
And still
There are dictators behind democracy
Only
The name has changed, the tyrants live in our days

Time of tyrants today, just like yesterday
Only the name has changed now
Behind their face they exploit our faith
Only to make what they couldn't make
The tyrants today are commanding our souls
Since long time ago and so we cry
You can't stop their thirst of power, glory and gold

But when the moon becomes dark sadness comes down
And in few words you can't say 'I don't mind
We are condemned to live like slaves without a dream
You can't escape, but life goes on

Time of tyrants today, just like yesterday
Only the name has changed now
Behind their face they exploit our faith
Only to make what they couldn't make
