

Mi Sangre (The Blood Song)

Artillery

Look beyond the lost horizon
See what's lurking in the dark
You can follow if you want to
Open up your heart

Take a walk into the garden
Smell the flower of despair
Taste the bitter fruit of evil
But my child beware

Your innocence you will lose
There's no turning back
In life you must always choose
Forever you will be my blood

You'll see the world explode around you
You'll see the mountains falling, into the sea
But there must be no fear inside you
Deep within yourself you will find the key

Ride on the wings of an angel
Fight with the strenght of a lion
Ride on the wings of an angel
You will never surrender

And there will be someone to guide you
If you look deep enough you will find the spirit
Sometimes the darkness will surround you
You'll wander through the mud, you will find the light

My blood lives through you

Don't expect to find the answers
To the questions you will ask
Life is just a simple story
Turn the pages now

Your innocence you will lose
There's no turning back
In life you must always choose
Forever you will be my blood

Mit blod lives on forever
Mit blod lives on forever

And you must never find the truth
There is no holy man
That will lead you to salvation
The answers lie within yourself
Don't live on your knees
(It's better to)
Die for what you belive in
