

Sworn Utopia

Artillery

Reading in books and searching the skies
Chanting cabala, agreeing on lies
Holding your hands and shaking your legs
Speaking the truth while you're bowing your necks

Litany, rites and altars of confession
Curse of the cloth, mind in recession
Forbidding walls, the selected few
Unity fear, oh what can you do

Sworn utopia - faith put to all the test
Sworn utopia - your saviours next

Your laws religion, dogmatic and vile
Imprison mankind, remain like a child
You must stay absent from glory and joy
Give up on Him, oh my altar boy

Sworn utopia - faith put to all the test
Sworn utopia - your saviours next

You must think you know it all
I know that you must fall

Solo: Michael

For all I care - make your peace
But don't you take it - it out on kids

Solo: Morten
