

I'm alive for the very first time
I feel your voice in my ear and your heart on my mind
Those sunset eyes, they're some kind of sign

Don't you love me today just to leave me tonight
You are the fire that can fight the cold
I'll breathe you in and never feel alone
We are the chemicals that found our home
And we're gonna react

Oh I'm alive for the very first time
Got no hands in the air, got you here by my side
Your body next to mine is some kind of sign

Don't you love me today just to leave me tonight
You are the fire that can fight the cold
I'll breathe you in and never feel alone
We are the chemicals that found our home
And we're gonna react

I've been around the world enough to see
Our combinations only meant to be
You're the elements my body needs
And we're gonna react
Gonna react, gonna react, gonna react

And we are gonna react
Gonna react, gonna react, gonna react

And we are gonna react
Gonna react, gonna react, gonna react

And we are gonna react
Gonna react, gonna react, gonna react
