Somewhere Else

Artist vs. Poet

I was thinking of the past, girl
It was me and you and nobody could do nothing about it
It was only us against the world
Now you're crying every night, always trying to fight
Why do you do what you do?
Say what you say?
Girl, you make it so easy for me to back out,
Back down,
And you're gonna find yourself alone

'Cause I don't like the games that you're playing
You're giving me the runaround
It's clouding on my head what you're saying
I think you better, you better hear me out

Baby, I'll go somewhere else,
Somewhere else, somewhere else
Baby, I'll go somewhere else
If you can't love me right, right now.

If you put all my shit in a box to the left
Im'a break your heart right down the middle
Channel all your guilt into being upset
But I found the flaws in your riddle.

Why do you do what you do?
Say what you say?
Girl, you make it so easy for me to stop caring.
And you're gonna find yourself alone

'Cause I don't like the games that you're playing
You're giving me the runaround
It's clouding on my head what you're saying
I think you better, you better hear me out

Baby, I'll go somewhere else,
Somewhere else, somewhere else
Baby, I'll go somewhere else
If you can't love me right,
There's
Girls blowing up my phone
Why am I still at home?
If we're just gonna fight then,

Baby, I'll go somewhere else
If you can't love me right, right now

If you put all my shit in a box to the left
Im'a break your heart right down the middle

If you put all my shit in a box to the left
Im'a break your heart right down the middle

If you put all my shit in a box to the left
Im'a break your heart right down the middle

Baby, I'll go somewhere else,

Somewhere else, somewhere else
Baby, I'll go somewhere else
If you can't love me right,
There's
Girls blowing up my phone
Why am I still at home?
If we're just gonna fight then,

Baby, I'll go somewhere else
If you can't love me right, right now
