

Unearth My Sorrow

As Autumn Calls

The darkness grows
Unearthing my sorrow
The light fades
Leaving doleful shades

The silent cries
Hopelessness inside my eyes
The broken screams
Haunt me in my dreams

These thoughts of you
The past I still pursue
The constant shame
Harbour all the blame

The nights grow colder
The days grow shorter
A constant reminder
(Of how I left you)

A heavy snowfall
A cold and empty stare
I vaguely remember
(Leaving you there)

(Repeat Chorus)

The sleepless nights
Beneath the dim lights
A long drawn out breath
The cold hands of death

An icy chill
Everything frozen still
A dreamlike state
The cold hands of fate

(Repeat Chorus)

My worlds painted dead
In shades of black and grey
I no longer see the point
In facing another dismal day
I much rather end it all
And be rid of all this pain... once and for all
