

Hurricane

Asher Monroe

Was on a fast train to no where's land
Head above sinking sand
Chasing highs and ignoring sings
Stuck with no direction
And then a force to be reckoned with
Came in with a gust of wind...
Knocked me off my feet...
It was a body of a goddess
wonder woman so hypnotic
She opened up the flood gates...

And hit me like a hurricane
Got the blood rushing trough my veins
Only the force of a hurricane
Could send a shock wave to my brain
To awaken my soul
Give me new air to breathe
Wings to fly...
Faith to... believe

Hurricane
Hurricane
Love you till the day I
Love you till the day I die

I wasn't looking for anybody
Could I be sure that you were the one?
I tried asking my mind if i was ready
But you came in like a loaded gun, yeah
Then a force to be reckoned with
Came in with a gust of wind...
Knocked me off my feet...
It was a body of a goddess
wonder woman so hypnotic

She opened up the flood gates...

And hit me like a hurricane
Got the blood rushing trough my veins
Only the force of hurricane
Could send a shock wave to my brain
To awaken my soul
Give me new air to breathe
Wings to fly...
Faith to... believe

Hurricane
Hurricane
Love you till the day I
Love you till the day I die

Take my mind for a spin
Wash the dirt
From my skin
Your wind is lifting me so high
Chills are running down my spine
Body's aching all the time

Love is in the air tonight

And hit me like a hurricane
Got the blood rushing through my veins
Only the force of hurricane
Could send a shock wave to my brain
To awaken my soul
Give me new air to breathe
Wings to fly...
Faith to... believe

Love you till the day I
Love you till the day I die

Love you
Till the day I die
