

Try Me

Asher Monroe

When I'm around you, what makes you feel so small?
You give your best but the pieces just won't fall
You're sad when things don't seem to go your way
You care too much what other people say

Every man holds the keys to unlock his style
Being stuck in the past can rob you of tomorrow
Our minds can be our own worst enemy
Playing dirty tricks to lure us in defeat

Instead of, "Why me"
Say, "Try me"
We must all suffer one or two pains
For greater self-discipline
Say, "Try me"
Take back the power you lost, we believe
Before you point your finger
Make sure your hands are clean

You can lead a horse to water but you can't make him drink
Some learn the most repeating mistakes
A stepping stone can be a stumbling block
The long way home becomes the same old walk

Instead of, "Why me"
Say, "Try me"
In the land of the blind
Even the one eyed man is king
I said, "Try me"
The truth is we are what we believe
Before you point the finger
Make sure your hands are clean

The water moves the mountain
Begins by carrying away small stones
To light in the loans
Hear the bells and peak the blind
Seek out and you shall find
That one is taken by surprise
Into the night

"Why me"
Say, "Try me"
In the land of the blind
Even the one eyed man is king
I said, "Try me"
We are what we believe
Be the captain of your fate
Master of your destiny
Now watch the miracles you can achieve
