

Eyes of Demise

Ashers

I'm staring into the eye of demise.
It's drawing closer I got no place to run.
And with this transformation I have become a frail shadow if wh at I once was.

And when it breaks the skin,
My soul's now lost, no conscience and no pain.
Dancing through my veins, everything that I loved has been torn right away.

I wanted it all but it's torn away by them.
It's taken control
Of my mind and my body, my life and my soul, now I'm dead,
I wanted it all but it's torn away by them.
It's taken control
of my mind and my body, my life and my soul, now I'm dead

Roam the the streets so aimlessly,
Are you a human or something else?
And when your skin's been pierced,
Only you can save yourself.
