

This Heart Won't Break

Ashton Shepherd

How do you heal after you've been hurt,
When someone cut you deeper than the river cuts the earth?
Where do you turn when there's no one left,
To mend the shattered soul inside yourself?

You gotta keep your faith, try and stay strong
Even when everything else in your life is going wrong
No, you can't let them go and just walk away
With pieces of your heart that they tried to take
Broke me down, drug my spirit around
Ran my name all over this town
Babe, but this heart won't break

And on the plane [?] cried my eyes dry
The storm clouds cleared, I can finally see the light
Lord it feels so good to feel the sunshine

You gotta keep your faith, try and stay strong
Even when everything else in your life is going wrong
No, you can't let them go and just walk away
With pieces of your heart that they tried to take
You broke me down, drug my spirit around
Ran my name all over this town
Babe, but this heart won't break
No, it don't break

Broke me down, drug my spirit around
Ran my name all over this town
Babe, this heart ain't gon' break
No, this heart won't break

Lord it feels so good to feel the sunshine
