Do you remember years ago?
All our hopes would ebb and flow
We thought we'd find a Promised Land
Our footprints in the sand

The mysteries, the twists of Fate Have changed the path from love to hate But won't erase sins of the past They hide behind the mask

If I could conquer all our fears Can forgiveness dry the tears? If I falter, my soul I'll sell On the coldest day in Hell

I'll never let you down How can I tell you now? But only Heaven knows I won't let you go

I dream of demons through the night A restless fever till morning light My body's cold, my head's on fire Give me back my life

Kill this ghost inside of me Let me sail on deep blue seas A new beginning, another page Dawn gives in to day

I will conquer all our fears Let forgiveness dry the tears If I falter my soul I'll sell On the coldest day in Hell

I'll never let you down
How can I tell you now?
But only Heaven knows
I won't let you go
I swear I'll stand my ground
How can I turn this round?
As this time Heaven knows
I won't let you know

When I'm dreaming, I'm dreaming of you When I'm breathing, I'm breathing with you

But only Heaven knows I won't let you go
