

Hand Over Hand

Au Revoir Simone

Steady mistake. Under steady eye.
What would you say if I start asking you once on awhile.
Hand over hand. Matching form to force.
Measure the strength. I know mine, and yours.

I'm only seeking you know.
Time will tell if I should wait for it or move through.
To meet the palm to the ground.
Finding I'm wanting to take more of it.
I wonder where you, where you, where you are.
I wonder where you, where you, where you are.

If pleasure it came, crowned in victory.
Washes away all of the words that you make too hard.
So what if the same vision overtakes.
Heart like a wheel, lighting closer.

I'm only seeking you now.
Time will tell if I should wait for it or move through.
To meet the palm to the ground.
Finding I'm wanting to take more of it.
I wonder where you, where you, where you are.
I wonder where you, where you, where you are.
