

Irrational Season

Audrey Assad

Over the skyline to see the spheres
I lift my eyes to the heavens
Nothing sensible has yet appeared
In this irrational season;
But the light is wilder here
Out on the edge of reason
And Love burns bright and clear
Out where I cannot seize Him

All the way my savior leads me
To peace that's past understanding;
Into the wilderness to find the streams
To know beyond comprehending
And the light is wilder here
Out on the edge of reason
And Love burns bright and clear
Out where I cannot seize Him

The night is darker here
Out on the edge of reason
But Love burns bright and clear
Out where I cannot seize Him
