

From Darkness

Audrey Horne

Just before the ocean swallowed you whole you heard the call
Sirens singing from below made you welcoming the fall

And you feel the ocean crush you
Feel the waves pulling you under, asunder
She'll never leave you lonely
Wrap her arms around you slowly, so lovely

From the darkness in the deep you can see a shining light
Captured by a voice divine you abandon your will to fight

You hear the sound of thunder
Lightning as she pull you under, asunder
Hold your head up son
You're not alone she will embrace you, and love you

She calls my name out softly
Oh, heaven help me I am falling
Lost out on the horizon
Oh, save me, God save me now

She calls my name out softly
Oh, heaven help me I am falling
Lost out on the horizon
Oh, save me, God save me now
