

Antony

Aura Dione

I saw a man, he looked like a women
I saw a women, she recognized me
A birdy, called Allie
She dances until ten on thursday

I could be your Antony
If you let me
I could be your Antony
At least for a while

I could be your Antony
If you let me
I could be your Amsterdam

I could be your Antony [x3]
I could be your Amsterdam

I look at lines now, never ending
Cover your face, in me
A girly, called Allie
She picks up the guitar
Yeah, she picks up the guitar
She picks up the guitar

I could be your Antony
If you let me
I could be your Antony
At least for a while

I could be your Antony
If you let me
I could be your Amsterdam

I could be your Antony
I could be your Antony
At least for a while

I could be your Antony
I could be you Amsterdam

I'm the A to the U-R-A
You know me
I'm the voice who sings for Antony
I can't wait for him to see
That he's inside my melody

I'm the A to the U-R-A
You know me
I'm the voice who sings for Antony
I can't wait for him to see
That he's inside my melody

I could be your Antony
If you let me
I could be your Antony
At least for a while

I could be your Antony
If you let me

I could be your Antony
I could be your Antony
At least for a while

I could be your Antony
I could be your Amsterdam

I could be you Antony
I'm the A to the U-R-A
You know me
That he's inside my melody

I could be you Antony
I'm the A to the U-R-A
You know me
