Man On A Lighthouse Mountain

Autumnblaze

O, how I'm longing for you
But I know, your heart goes for the blue
O, so hard to let you flow
Into the sea, your window is closed for me

Leave the man on the lighthouse mountain

He never fell in love

He don't know he could miss a woman's glowing kiss

O, how I'm longing for blue
But I feel, there's something completely new
O, my heart is trembling shy
I doubt again, but I must say goodbye

Leave the man on the lighthouse mountain He never felt her tender breath His helpless eyes, they do not miss Just staring through the ocean's bliss
