

The Path

Avian

Take the water from the trees I let it become the air that I breathe

This vicious dream will transcend reality

Forget the past I live my life right to the edge

Between the lines resides the drive that won't ever end

just don't know where to go from here

The past now is gone and no longer is near

Fate and chance have led me to my knees

The path I had known has now disappeared

Verse II

Far away from eternal land I feel the power in my hands

Life and death are symmetry; break away and then I will be free

Chorus

I just don't know where to go from here

The past now is gone and no longer is near

Fate and chance have led me to my knees

The Path I had known has now disappeared

Verse III

Balance the lines between love, hate, life and death

You'll soar on wings that will bring forth your final rebirth

Chorus

I just don't know where to go from here

The past now is gone and no longer is near

Fate and chance have led me to my knees

The path I had known has now disappeared

I just don't know where to go from here

The past now is gone and no longer is near

Fate and chance have led me to my knees

The path I had sown has vanished
