

The Escape

Avion Roe

I'm a lie, terminal and unfree
If only you weren't like you, maybe I wouldn't be Truth in between us is condescending it's never ending, it's all
I'd love to know where I am, here tonight

Out, let it out
You're all I'm breathing now
Right in front of me
Yeah you found it again and I hope you hold on

(Close, close your eyes)

Contradiction sewn together in sound
Our promises shatter like glass alive on the ground
The miles between us they stay consistent so damn persistent
I can't stand the taste of it, It's all gone to waste but it's wrong
(And I know it?)
I can't seem to place it just smile you're the face of the calm in the current

Out, let it out
You're all I'm breathing now
Right in front of me
Yeah you found it again that you lost all your faith within Me, let it out
You're all I'm breathing now
Right in front of me
Yeah you found it again and I hope you hold on to the end

Try to scream at the Sky that you're barely alive
Try and not find yourself tonight,
When I lie you can't turn your back on life

Out, let it out
You're all I'm breathing now
Right in front of me
Yeah you found it again and I hope you'll hold on til the end
Let it out
You're all I'm breathing now
Right in front of me
Yeah you found it again and I hope you hold on

Yeah you found it again and I hope you'll hold on til the end
Yeah you found it again and I hope you'll hold on til the end
Yeah you found it again and I hope you'll hold on til the end
