

Wherever I Am

Aynsley Lister

Suddenly I can't breath, I try not to let it show
It's Getting on top of me but I know that somewhere out there.
Wherever I am I'll fight again
Wherever I am I'll fight again
But all that's broken on the floor, if I tried I could never again
Break it any more
Trying to fix me, but only I can aching, break from the suddenly, though it's held in my hand.
I need resolution, so paint me a picture, where the solution
Where I can see that somewhere out there
Wherever I am I'll fight again
Wherever I am I'll fight again
But all that's broken on the floor, if I tried I could never again
Break it any more
When you think you've reached the bottom, but you're still falling down Who'll pick up the pieces flying all around.
Oooh yeah yeah yeah