

Fix Me Up

Ayo

I've been to
A fountain full of lies
Been hurt before
And told not to cry

And I chose to stay, I was terrified, that it
Could get worse, and I'd never find
Someone to love me
And I couldn't breathe, I could barely smile
Was insecure, when I lost my sight

Would you love me, love me, love me now?
Would you hold me, hold me, hold me now?
Can you pull back together what's ripped apart,
And love me, love me, fix me up?
Can you say my name, say it loud,
And love me, love me, love me now?

I thought I'd never
Fall in love again
Till you caught my eye
And took me by the hand

You gave me wings, you made me fly
Taught me new things, brought back my smile
Made me feel good about myself
Got me all high, got me all hooked
You opened up my eyes again
And made me see the light again
Taught to speak love and understand
Now I know, I found my man

Would you love me, love me, love me now?
Would you hold me, hold me, hold me now?
Can you pull back together what's ripped apart,
And love me, love me, fix me up?
Can you say my name, say it loud,
And love me, love me, love me now?
