

Deconstruct Me

Ayria

I've been in this place before
It always ends the same
With broken hearts and minds and souls
But I'll fight another day

'Cause bigger things have tried to break me
Bigger things, they take their toll
Bigger things have left me empty
Bigger things than you'll know

So deconstruct me into pieces
I'll let you, I'll let you
And throw away the parts that you don't need
'Cause I'll let you, I'll let you
Deconstruct me into pieces
I'll let you, I'll let you
And throw away the parts that you don't need
'Cause I'll let you, I'll let you

Your ghost, it haunts me daily
The smell of you won't fade
But I've got bigger monsters than you
You'd better stay away

'Cause bigger things have tried to break me
Bigger things, they take their toll
Bigger things have left me empty
Bigger things than you'll know

So deconstruct me into pieces
I'll let you, I'll let you
Throw away the parts that you don't need
'Cause I'll let you, I'll let you
Deconstruct me into pieces
I'll let you, I'll let you
And throw away the parts that you don't need
'Cause I'll let you, I'll let you
