

Off She Goes

Bad Suns

Where, where do you go
When the light leaves your eyes?
And you're just out of reach
Like a tree-bound kite
What's on your mind as you're staring behind?
And I'm on my own in your arms tonight
Ooh nananana, off she goes

Where, where do you go
When the tears leave your eyes?
When you feel that burn
I know words can't describe
Where do you go?
Remember when you told me?
Remember when you told me?

When you can't believe in yourself
All you hear is anyone else
And if you'd just believe in yourself
We can tune out everyone else
That's alright
Ooh, that's alright
Alright

Feel the earth underneath
Snatch a star, you can reach
Feel the earth leave your feet
We can glide, don't need streets

You can't believe in yourself
All you hear is anyone else
And if you'd just believe in yourself
We can tune out everyone else
That's alright
Ooh nananana, off she goes
That's alright
Ooh nananana, off she goes

Feel the earth underneath
Snatch a star, you can reach
Feel the earth leave your feet
We can glide, don't need streets
Ooh nananana, off she goes

When you can't believe in yourself
All you hear is anyone else
And if you'd just believe in yourself
We can tune out everyone else
When you can't believe in yourself
All you hear is anyone else
And if you'd just believe in yourself
We can tune out everyone else
That's alright
Ooh nananana, off she goes
That's alright

Where, where do you go

When the light leaves your eyes?
And you're just out of reach
Like a tree-bound kite
What's on your mind as you're staring behind?
And I'm on my own in your arms tonight
Yeah I'm on my own in your arms tonight
