

Waking in Silence

Balflare

Lead us into the daylight
I wanna be sure it's alright
To stand up against the men
Who have taken the reins over us

Are you the one to break?
Whatever is at stake
Know that I must defend it
Or the lies will be allowed

Waiting until tomorrow
Trying to forget the sorrows
Force me to decide
To fight against the evil deals

Step aside you fiends, stay away unseen
Know that I must destroy you
So that the truth can come to light

Waking in silence
Giving up in the darkness
Over again
Can't forget the misery
Shouting for our rights
Rising up in a struggle
Breaking away
Lift up your fist to the sky

We're prey to those in power
Wealth 'n labor to devour
Stand up against the men
Who have taken the reins over us

Hold on to what is dear
Defeat all that we fear
Know that I must defend it
Or the lies will be allowed

Waking in silence...

The old world is gone
Times are changing
Might be fate, but...
We're not just a pawn

Waking in silence...