Bang

Nations died and lost their land Sacred ground turned to sand Our leaders words The cries of their kin Swirl around us adrift in the wind

A weapon of war invaded mankind Fatal germs killed all left behind Sparing those few who fled under ground Unlike the Redman would never be found

We all need a wishing star
A spirit to tell us who we are
Our future's unclear; it's baked in the clay
Give us the chance to start a new day
Start a new day

Why we were spared, we may never know We're given a choice, a gun or a bow Beneath our feet, the survivors have died Again through the calm, of nature we ride

We all need a wishing star
A spirit to tell us who we are
Our future's unclear it's baked in the clay
We have the chance to start a new day
Start a new day
