

Spanish Reds

Banner Pilot

Where's the sun? And when did our lives become stuck in this fucked up place, in this routine?
Vampire jobs to TV screen.
Show me what we missed, 'cause we should be more along than this.
If we ever had a path then we lost it.
Wake up drained and exhausted.

We don't fight, we just talk real loud.
Then we turn our backs. We're kinda like this town.
Snake bit. I don't know why we keep rolling twos
but at the end of the day it's just background noise,
it's not me and you. So if you wanna stay up all night
we can hit the record shops or just stay in bed drinking Spanish
Reds,
waiting for the rain to stop.
It's passing through, and you know that you are looking like an angel now.
I watch you fall asleep on a dead end street
and the world is right somehow.
and the world is right somehow.

Here's the spring, I wanna know everything.
All of your washed up dreams, and where you been.
Northwest town you grew up in.
Everything you did. Wish I coulda met you as a kid.
Back when we had a path, but we lost it.
Wake up drained and exhausted.

We don't fight, we just talk real loud.
Then we turn our backs. We're kinda like this town.
Snake bit. I don't know why we keep rolling twos
but at the end of the day it's just background noise,
it's not me and you. So if you wanna stay up all night
we can hit the record shops or just stay in bed drinking Spanish
Reds,
waiting for the rain to stop.
It's passing through, and you know that you are looking like an angel now.
I watch you fall asleep on a dead end street
and the world is right somehow.

And if we fell apart, and if we lose the day,
and if we hit the edge of the map drop off and never find our way.
If we never win, if we take all our swings and miss,
I can live with that, die happy, know there's no one else I'd rather lose with
