In This World

Barry Manilow

How have I found you? How in the world? Now that I've found you You are my world In these times that keep us guessing You're my answer and my blessing Pretty damn amazing, given This peculiar world we live in In this world That's lost all its reason At last there's a reason For hope in my heart In this world Unsure of its future So sure of you I say, let the future start! In this world That's yearning for someone To answer the call From out of the blue In this world I prayed there would come one Magnificent someone Someone like you In this world That's lost all its reason At last there's a reason For hope in our hearts In this world unsure of its future

For hope in our hearts In this world unsure of its futur Somehow with you I'm sure where the future starts In this world That's yearning for someone To answer the call From out of the blue In this world I prayed there would come one Magnificent someone Someone like you