

It's a New World

Barry Manilow

It's a new world I see, a new world for me
The tears have rolled off my cheek

& fears fade away every time you speak
A new world away, we're in a tiny room

What a vision of joy & blossom & bloom
A new found promise one that will last

So I'm holding on & I'm holding fast
You'll bring a new world to me the way the world should be
