

No limit in the sky that I won't fly for ya
No amount of tears in my eyes that I won't cry for ya
Oh no

With every breath that I take
I want you to share that air with me
There's no promise that I won't keep
I'll climb a mountain, there's none too steep

When it comes to you
There's no crime
Let's take both of our souls
And intertwine
When it comes to you
Don't be blind
Watch me speak from my heart
When it comes to you
Comes to you

Want you to share that

Whenever we are close, my heart it explodes
I look in your eyes, it gives me hope
The way we connect with your palms against mine
You found something funny and try not to smile
The oversized hoodie, the black ripped jeans
Been wearing for a week, don't care if their cleans
Spend hours in the bathroom, six in the morning
You me six songs, never get boring
Though you are suck at singing and you're out of key
Those are my happiest memories
I know you said sometimes in the rash moments
I will be the one to heal your bruises
On the phone to your mom, I know that she hates me
Tryna justify why you started to date me
I have you and you have me
I don't care we're meant to be

When it comes to you
There's no crime
Let's take both of our souls
And intertwine
When it comes to you
Don't be blind
Watch me speak from my heart
When it comes to you
Comes to you

Want you to share that
When it comes to you
Want you to share that

You opened up a part of me
That I've never seen
Your heart is my guarantee
We don't need a ring
Our spirits dance in harmony

There is no need to rush
I will be with you for eternity
I'll put the U in us

When it comes to you
Don't be blind
Watch me speak from my heart
When it comes to you
Comes to you
