

Not Alone

Bars and Melody

Bright lights in the young night kick to the beat
A classic scene from the highway so interesting
No sound, no soul, not physically
Just words, just energy, just
A roaring ocean current without any sympathy
Moonlight road marking making symmetry
And in a moment, taking its energy
It's my everything, it's self-discovery
See all the visions that I have, why are do I have them?
I live for that misleading feeling of warmth
It triggers your mind and as your eyes go blurry
This is not what the body wants, not what the body wants

Now you know
I'm standing here all by myself
But I am not alone
This world, you know
I need a place to call my home
And I am not alone

I'm not alone
I'm not alone
I'm not alone

I only know I never wanted to get left behind
No pauses, not a second guess
Picking up the pace to keep up with the moonlight
Never hesitates a movement try to carry on
I feel like I'm alone but everybody hurts
I regenerate through hunger for it but it never works
The way that wind blows the leaves off the trees
And the way that the birds sing the sky back to sleep
The past is dragging me down, and even if I'm wrong
Just because it fits doesn't mean that it belongs
And I swear, if your there we will find no sun there

Now you know
I'm standing here all by myself
But I am not alone
This world, you know
I need a place to call my home
And I am not alone

I'm not alone
I'm not alone
I'm not alone

Without a trace of life around me and the sound of the beat
Sings my eyes to sleep and I keep up with the movements around me
What are the secrets I keep, where are the voices I hear
Why am I thinking of life, am I alone here
Just trying to get home but it's so hard I'm hardly ever happy anymore
And there's no road to follow, I could just take a dive
And hit the ground without a leg to stand on to fight
I hope I make it out alive

Now you know

I'm standing here all by myself
But I am not alone
This world, you know
I need a place to call my home
And I am not alone

I'm not alone
I'm not alone
I'm not alone