

Thousand Years

Bars and Melody

Distance won't destroy us
Our hearts will only grow fonder
The absence of each other
Will only keep our love stronger

We share the moon, we share the stars
We taste the tears, we bare the scars
A thousand years, I'd run to you
There's not a thing I wouldn't do
I know this pain won't last
We can leave it all in the past
I would give my life for you
Just for another chance

A thousand years, a thousand miles
Across the world just to see you smile
You've been away for way too long
I need your love just to keep me strong

Everyday I'm not with you I lose my mind
But I will wait forever, girl
True love is hard to find

A thousand years, erase the time
I'll wait forever just to make you mine

Time won't destroy us
Our hearts will only grow older
The absence of each other
Will never make our love colder

I stared down the sun
I part every sea
I break the curse they put on us
And then we could be free
I tear down these walls
And open up my heart
For that would be the day
It all fell apart

A thousand years, a thousand miles
Across the world just to see you smile
You've been away for way too long
I need your love just to keep me strong

I would never rest
No, I will never fall
Until I see your face
I will fight right through it all

A thousand years, erase the time
I'll wait forever just to make you mine

Distance won't destroy us
Our hearts will only grow older
The absence of each other
Will never make our love colder

A thousand years, a thousand miles
Across the world just to see you smile
You've been away for way too long
I need your love just to keep me strong

Everyday I'm not with you I lose my mind
But I will wait forever, girl
True love is hard to find

A thousand years, erase the time
I'll wait forever just to make you mine
A thousand years, a thousand miles
Across the world just to see you smile
You've been away for way too long
I'll wait forever just to make you mine
Make you mine
Across the world just to see you smile
I'll wait forever
I'll wait forever just to make you mine