

Elegy to the Void

Beach House

To your sons and daughters
Bending at the altar
Disappearing in the mirror

Watch it as it burns out
It is just a flame
Freckle faced young virgin
It is just a game

Platinum vision
Bringing you down again and again
Again and again

Black clock looming distant
You're a great white
They were never listening
Waiting for the light to come again

Deep beneath the waves
Lilies of the day
Garden of remains
Diamond maiden chained

To your sons and daughters
Bending at the altar
Don't you disappear in the mirror again and again
Again and again

Deep beneath the waves
White-winged birds of May
Run from hollow hills
Walk into the night

Deep beneath the waves
Lilies of the day
Run from hollow hills
Walk into the night

Deep beneath the waves
White-winged birds of May
Run from hollow hills
Walk into the night
