

you where kind, ever welcoming among the slows of longobardo leaves you can take all of you love out on me sophie

you always loved charlie best never knew how each night i wept but i feast upon the crums he left sophie

i cant forgive myself
oh i cant forgive myself

you would hide yourself in a shroud as your hair statrted falling out when u took of your dressing gound

your mother was dressed in black with a lock of your hair in her hand and i knew there was no turning back for me and i cant forgive myself

no i cant forgive myself

didnt know started running i was running for my life ididnt know when i started running i'd be running my whole life didnt know when i started running
