

i see an old man on the street,
without shoes and nothing to eat.
i ask myself, can this happen to me,
whose's the one, who cares about these threat?
what a fuck is going on?
ignorance and "take it gone"!
sorrow is a normal thing,
silence about suffering.
sad but true, we're still looking around,
we can't help, cause we're indefferent!
is it the fear, that happens the same to us,
to make us blind
a little girl is walking next me,
i see her little swollen face.
i think she's taling to her mother and I hear:
"daddy is angry in these days"
what the fuck is going on?
ignorance and "take it gone"!
sorrow is a normal thing,
silence about suffering.
sad but true, we're still looking around,
we can't help, cause we're indifferent!
is it the fear, that happens the same to us,
to make us blind.
we close our eyes and it happens everyday.
