

Wanna Be More

Bebe & Cece Winans

In the course of this life
Some friends you gain, some you lose
And in the back of your mind
You're searching for love without the blues
That's why I've come from far away
To take away the blues
And I've come to say

I wanna be more than just somebody
I wanna be more than just a friend
I wanna be more than someone special
'Cause special friends sometimes won't understand

Now we can laugh and share the pain
All of the tears and joyous gains
And when all others fail to show
Hope you believe and always know
That I'll be with you until the end
Not just the good times
Like fair weathered friends

I wanna be more than just somebody
I wanna be more than just a friend
I wanna be more than someone special
'Cause special friends sometimes won't understand

So give me a chance to show you need me
And give me a try to prove I'm right
Then if you decide to live without me
Don't never ever say I came and passed your way
And left you standing there without a hope or prayer

So give me a chance to show you need me
And give me a try to prove I'm right
Then if you decide to live without me
Don't never ever say I came and passed your way
'Cause you're my reason why I wanna be more
