

Deeper Than The Usual Feeling

Beborn Beton

I thought she was an angel
Beautiful and kind

I thought she was an angel
Till the day she ran away and blew my mind

I tried to hold her
Keep her in my arms
She was so cold
And when she smiled
I felt my heart was torn apart

I thought she was my baby
Innocent but wise

I thought she was my baby
But I didn't see the sadness in her eyes

I thought we had a thing
Much deeper than the usual feeling
And after all I was too blind
To see our love deceasing

I couldn't stop her
Did I even try?

I'd send her letters
if I had the chance
But there'll be no reply
