

Memories

Before the zero day

Time is running out
we are getting older
things around us are a part of ourselves
everything has changed,
everything has changed

Pieces of a mirror like memories are falling down and they are far away my memories, oh my memories, my memories, they are far away

It will never be the same as it was, as it was things around us are a part of ourselves
everything has changed,
everything has changed

are falling down and they are far away
my memories, oh my memories, my memories, they are far away

Time is running out
we are getting older

are falling down and they are far away
Pieces of a mirror like memories
are falling down and they are far away
my memories, oh my memories, my memories, they are far away
