Close Your Eyes, It's Okay To Rest Now

Before Their Eyes

I've lost you somewhere in forever So lets start this all over Because all of this seems to familiar Like the darkness that hides my past Like the knife you stuck into my back

And this time it feels so right Lets set the tone tonight Somehow I've found home Somehow I've found home again

I might seem lifeless But I'm not dead Help me pick up the pieces So I can find you again

Close your eyes, it's okay to rest now

Somehow I've found home Somehow I've found home again
