

Midwest Modesty

Before Their Eyes

If for the rest of your life
You decide to never think about me
Don't expect me to care
Drawing pictures on the walls all crazy
Picked you up off the ground when you were down
Don't you forget it...
I think you keep forgetting

So it's over
I said it's done
I said there will not ever be another one
Now let's be honest
I don't deserve this
So I'm focused in the Midwest
Getting back to where we built this

I've replaced everyone that I hate
With everything I love
No, I won't blink twice at the mention of your name
No, I'm not calling you out
This is me showing I'm not messing around
I'll wave as you sink lower and lower and lower
Is this still everything you want
Then watch me go and get it
This is something you won't see
But you've given me a reason to leave you behind

They're afraid to speak to your face
But they love to yell at your back
No, I'm not calling you out
This is me showing I'm not messing around
I think you keep forgetting
