

The me I used to be

Before Their Eyes

Our ship being pummeled by the angry waves
And there is not an ounce of fear in your voice
These dark burning clouds come burn the sky come burn the sky tonight

And there is no man who can sleep through this

And there is nowhere
Nowhere that I would rather be
Keep me close to you
Your all I need

What if I stand here
What if I trust you
Where is the me I use to know
Can you help me find my way (keep me close to you)
What if you reached out and I try to touch you
Would I be buried in the waves
I'm taking steps into the water
Your all I need

I'll set all my fear aside
I'll focus my eyes
I'll focus my eyes to you

What if I stand here
What if I trust you
Where is the me I use to know
Can you help me find my way (keep me close to you)
What if you reached out and I try to touch you
Would I be buried in the waves
I'm taking steps into the water

Everything I said I'd get now
Everything I can't live without
Where is the me I use to know
My god I feel stranded in my lack of commitment

What if I stand here
What if I trust you
Where is the me I use to know
What if you reached out and I can you touch you
To touch you

(I'm taking myself into the water)
What if I stand here
What if I trust you
Where is the me I use to know
What if you reached out and I try to touch you

I'm taking self into the water
