

This Fantasy

Before Their Eyes

Been here a thousand times before
I put out the fire
The thing that kept us warm
And now we stand alone

(Hey! Hey!)
The walls are falling down
(Hey! Hey!)
We're buried underground
(Hey! Hey!)
Can you see me now?
You've gone and turned me inside out

I once believed
(I once believed, I once believed)
In this fantasy
I feel ashamed, I feel ashamed
And it's choking me

I can't get you out my head
It's spreading like cancer
You're leaving me for dead
And now we stand alone

(Hey! Hey!)
The walls are falling down
(Hey! Hey!)
We're buried underground
(Hey! Hey!)
Can you see me now?
You've gone and turned me inside out

I once believed
(I once believed, I once believed)
In this fantasy
I feel ashamed, I feel ashamed
And it's choking me

I never wanted it
To end up like this
I once believed (I once believed)
In this fantasy

Now!
It's like a loan!
You're the house where no one's home!
I feel so ashamed
Because I once believed

I once believed
(I once believed, I once believed)
In this fantasy
I feel ashamed, I feel ashamed
And it's choking me

I never wanted it
To end up like this

I once believed (I once believed)
In this fantasy
